COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

35. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of their selves and other employees similarly situated as authorized under the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). The employees similarly situated are the collective class.
36. Collective Class: All persons who are or have been employed by the Defendants as stockers, cleaners, or other similarly titled personnel with substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, who were performing the same sort of functions for Defendants, other than the executive and management positions, who have been subject to Defendants' common practices, policies, programs, procedures, protocols and plans including willfully failing and refusing to pay required minimum and overtime wage compensation.

37. Upon information and belief, Defendants employed approximately at least 50 employees within the relevant time period who were subjected to similar payment structures.
38. Upon information and belief, Defendants suffered and permitted Plaintiff and the Collective Class to work more than forty hours per week without appropriate overtime compensation.
39. Defendants' unlawful conduct has been widespread, repeated, and consistent.
40. Upon information and belief, Defendants had knowledge that Plaintiff and the Collective Class performed work requiring overtime pay.
41. Defendants' conduct as set forth in this Complaint, was willful and in bad faith, and has caused significant damages to Plaintiff and the Collective Class.
42. Defendants are liable under the FLSA for failing to properly compensate Plaintiff and the Collective Class, and as such, notice should be sent to the Collective Class. There are numerous similarly situated current and former employees of Defendants who have been denied overtime pay in violation of the FLSA and NYLL, who would benefit from the issuance of a Court-supervised notice of the present lawsuit, and the opportunity to join the present lawsuit. Those similarly situated employees are known to Defendants and are readily identifiable through Defendants' records.
43. The questions of law and fact common to the putative class predominate over any questions affecting only individual members.
44. The claims of Plaintiff are typical of the claims of the putative class.
45. Plaintiff and his counsel will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the putative class.
46. A collective action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy.

FEDERAL RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE RULE 23 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

47. Plaintiffs sue on their own behalf and as the class representatives (hereinafter referred to as the "New York Class Representative") and bring the Second Cause of Action on their own behalf and as a class action, on behalf of those similarly situated, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) and (b). The Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 Class is defined as:

All car washers and dryers and ticket men who are currently or have been employed by the Defendants at EASTERN DISTRIBUTORS 1, INC. and who worked greater than 40 hours per week (hereinafter referred to as the “New York Class”) without receiving time and a half for hours over 40 each week at any time during the 6 years prior to the filing of their respective consent forms (hereinafter referred to as the “New York Class Period”).

48. The persons in the New York Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although, the precise number of such persons is unknown, and facts upon which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of the Defendants, upon information and belief, there are more than 50 members of the New York Class during the New York Class Period.
49. There are questions of law and fact common to the New York Class that predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the New York Class, including but not limited to:
 - a. Whether Defendants unlawfully failed to pay overtime compensation in violation of and within the meaning of the NYLL;
 - b. Whether the New York Class Representative and New York Class are nonexempt from entitlement to overtime compensation for hours worked under the pay requirement of the NYLL;
 - c. Whether Defendants failed to keep accurate and complete time records for all hours worked by the New York Class Representative and the New York Class;
 - d. Whether Defendants’ policy of failing to pay workers was instituted willfully or with reckless disregard of the law;
 - e. The proper measure of damages sustained by the New York Class Representative and the New York Class; and
 - f. Whether Defendants should be enjoined from such violations in the future.
50. The New York Class Representative will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the New York Class and have no interests antagonistic to the class. The Plaintiffs are represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in both class litigation and employment litigation.

51. A class is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual plaintiffs lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit in federal court against a corporate defendant. The damages sustained by individual class members are modest compared to the expense and burden of individual prosecution of this litigation. Class action treatment will obviate unduly duplicative litigation and the possibility of inconsistent judgments.
52. Further, the New York Class Representative and the New York Class have been equally affected by Defendants' failure to pay overtime wages. Moreover, members of the New York Class still employed by Defendants may be reluctant to raise individual claims for fear of retaliation.
53. Defendants have acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the New York Class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class was a whole.
54. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of the class. Plaintiffs and the other class members were subjected to Defendants' policies, practices, programs, procedures, protocols and plans alleged herein concerning the non-payment of overtime wages and the failure to keep adequate records. The job duties of Plaintiffs are typical of those of the class members.
55. The New York Class Representative intends to send notice to all members of the New York Class to the extent required by Rule 23.
